SALEM

SALEM, August 11.—Clyde McIn- tire, son of G. W. McIntire, died at a Parkersburg hospital August 9, where he had been taken for examination and care by some specialists. He had a complication of ailments, but most likely died from a gathering in the head. He was 23 years of age, and a public school teacher for a number of years. He was a student in Salem College, and purposed to complete the course of study there and take a degree.

Early in young manhood he united with the McIntire Fork Baptist church near Wallace where he was a faithful church worker and superintendent of the Sunday school. He had just recently transferred membership to the Salem church. The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon from the new Baptist church; it being the first funeral service held in the new edifice, and was largely attended. Rev. Asa Bailey, his former pastor, officiating, with Dr. Clark, president of the college, paying a high tribute to the worth and character of the young man.

Noxon's Carnival shows closed a big week's engagement here Saturday night and loaded up for Bellington, where they exhibit under the auspices of the Bellington Volunteer Fire
